Meet one of the world's most popular apps: SnapApp

The world of social media is constantly changing, and one platform that has made a huge impact, especially among young people, is SnapApp. According to social media expert Dr Emily Adams, SnapApp has become much more than just a place to send pictures or short videos. It's an entire experience that is shaping the way young people communicate and interact with each other.

One of the things that makes SnapApp unique is its focus on real-time sharing. Unlike other social media platforms where content can be posted and viewed at any time, SnapApp's main feature is that photos and videos vanish after being viewed. This has created a sense of urgency and excitement, as users know their content won't last forever. The app also allows for instant, direct communication with friends, making it feel much more personal and immediate than other social media apps.

SnapApp has also introduced many fun and creative features that keep users engaged. Filters, lenses, and Bitmoji avatars allow young people to add a touch of humour and personality to their photos and videos. These features make the platform appealing because it feels like an interactive playground where users can express themselves in new ways. The "Stories" feature, where users post photos and videos that are visible for 24 hours, has become a popular way for people to share their daily lives with friends and followers.

Dr Adams explains that SnapApp has a major influence on how young people view their social relationships. It encourages a more casual, spontaneous style of communication, where users can share moments instantly without worrying about perfection. However, this also means that young people may sometimes feel pressure to be constantly "on" and always ready to share content. There's a constant need to stay connected, and this can sometimes lead to feelings of anxiety or missing out, known as FOMO (fear of missing out).

Despite these pressures, SnapApp remains incredibly popular because it allows young people to build closer connections with their friends and share moments in a fun and creative way. It has become an essential part of their social lives, helping them stay connected and engaged in the digital world.

So, while SnapApp may look like just another app on your phone, it's clear that it has had a lasting impact on the way young people communicate, share, and experience the world around them.

Task 3: Matching<sup>3</sup>*_____ / 5 points

The people below all want to learn a new outdoor sport. On the next page you will find descriptions of eight short courses in outdoor sports. Decide which course (A-H) would be most suitable for the following people (1-5).

There is an example at the beginning (0).

0. Paul, Robin and their 15-year-old twins are going on their first sailing trip. In preparation for this, the parents want their children to learn how to keep out of danger when they are in the sea.

Course: A

1. Juan wants to spend half a day learning a water sport that he can do when the waves are not big enough for surfing. He dislikes being part of a group.

Course: _____ H

2. Claire would like to try climbing but is nervous about heights. She doesn't want to spend much money to start with.

Course: _____ E

3. Marie is a non-swimmer who has not done any exercise for a long time. She loves speed and wants to try a new activity for half a day.

Course: _____ B

4. Lech, Monika and their 12-year-old daughter are all confident swimmers. They'd like to learn a new water sport on a half-day course.

Course: _____ G

5. Peter and his eighteen-year-old son Dan want to spend a day together doing a range of outdoor activities that they will find challenging. They also hope to see some wildlife.

Course: _____ C

Sports courses to choose from:

A) Swindale Beach Learn respect for the sea by booking a place on this two-hour ocean knowledge session. Basic lifesaving and sea safety techniques are covered, making it an excellent introduction for anyone of 14 or over planning to take up water sports.	B) Portloebar When the sea's too rough for sailing, try land yachting. In a taster session lasting three hours you will first learn to stop and turn by using the sail: land yachts have no brakes or steering wheel and can reach 50 Kph! This beach sport is fast and fun and requires little fitness.
C) Ramsay Rocks On this exciting six-hour adventure, you will climb over cliffs and rocks and jump from them into the sea. You can explore sea caves and you'll see a variety of birds and other creatures. A professional guide is responsible for the safety of the group members at all times. Minimum age 16.	D) Carliport Island On this one-day sea outing with qualified instructors, you first learn the basics of how to control your boat. You will then sail round the island, stopping for a picnic lunch at one of the island's many hidden beaches. Dolphins and seals are often seen.
E) Boulder Craggs We offer one-day introductory courses to this challenging rock-climbing activity. It is done without safety ropes, just a few metres of the ground and so is suitable for children. Only climbing shoes are needed as helmets and a thick landing mat are provided.	F) Lasham Learn the absolute basics of traditional rock-climbing in one day on this fun course. No experience is required but you must be prepared to work hard to reach the top. We recommend you wear climbing shoes and waterproof trousers and jacket. Groups will be kept small.
G) Glaze Lake This calm lake is the ideal venue to learn to windsurf. If you are unable to sail your board after our four-hour taster lesson, we will give you your money back! Teaching groups are according to age and ability with a maximum of six members.	H) Whitesands In this brand-new activity from the US, you stand on a six-foot long board and use a large paddle. This allows you to ride waves when the sea is too calm to use your regular surfboard. You'll need strength and good balance for one of our individual two-hour lessons.
